

English Language Tenses

Maksuda Turdiyeva Jonqo'lat qizi
Student of Termiz Pedagogical Institute

INTRODUCTION: The English language, which is rising as the language of education in developed countries in the present developed world and has formed as an international script in all spheres of everyday life, is used as the state language in several countries of the world at the same time. In particular, in order to be aware of the achievements of science, to learn and to use it on a large scale, learning English is the demand of the time. It would be correct to call English the language of development at a time when all the achievements in the development of the Internet and information technologies, modern techniques and technologies, social, economic and political changes, news and processes are announced to the whole world in English. Today, world-scale interstate relations, social and political international organizations, scientific, educational, political and worldly international conferences are conducted in English.

MAIN PART: English is an international world language, its learning grammar and vocabulary are the ways to increase to the Uzbek language. Methods and methods of learning English quickly and easily in a short period of time. English is the common mother tongue of all developed countries such as England, Ireland, Wales, USA, and Australia. The history of English belongs to the family of Germanic languages, originated from the dialect of the Anglo-Saxons [Marseille], and there are British and American dialects of the English language, which have traveled the path of great development until today. Their mutual differences and similarities are the only. The single English language is built on the basis of morphology and syntax, the difference is in the pronunciation of words. Unlike the Uzbek language, the English language has some grammatical features. cannot be directly translated. The Uzbek language belongs to the Qarluq dialect of Turkic languages, and according to its living characteristics, it was formed by mixing the Eastern Iranian languages with the Turkic languages. The English language is derived from the Uzbek language. The difference is that in English, the plural of verb tenses is written separately from the words, as well as possessive and person-number adverbs. In order to easily memorize words in English, we need to match them with Uzbek words. In the preschool and secondary education system of the Republic of Uzbekistan, it is necessary to introduce the methods of effective learning of the English language along with the Uzbek language to the young generation in accordance with the spirit of the times. The method of writing words in English according to the alphabetical order. A new method of saying a new word to the letter at the end of the word. The method of creating new words using the words in one sentence. We can also use methods such as the method of quick vocabulary memorization. The method of writing words in English in alphabetical order. A method taught for mutual competition is the method of writing the most words in English in alphabetical order. The effective part of this method serves to increase the vocabulary of young people in English, a new word for the letter at the end of the word The pronunciation method helps to write words in English correctly, effectively helps to remember words that differ in pronunciation and spelling. The method of finding new words from the words in one sentence, this method of ours teaches the young generation to think logically, the method of finding several words from the structure of one word will greatly help to learn the English language more widely and effectively.

IN SUMMARY: A person who knows the language knows that, in the current developed era, the international language of communication is English, which is studied and used in every corner of the world. It is a communication language that ensures being active in the rapidly ongoing processes in the developed global age.

English is the way to the world.

REFERENCES:

1. Margaret Richek. "The World of Words "
- 2 . Paul S, Gruber Ms. " The 800 Most commonly Used Idioms in America.
3. Nesible Sevgi Undes. " Els -English through reading ".
4. Louise Hashemi. " English grammer instituti use supplementary exercises".
5. Dr Ramo. " Success to IELTS tips and techniques